HEALTH & NUTRITION TIPS FROM THE HEALTH MINISTRY: Vitamin B-complex: To summarize how the vitamin B family affects our bodies: this group of vitamins should always be thought of when we think of energy production, blood cell production, brain function, oral health, mood regulation, and stress reduction. So, if you are dealing with fatigue, anemia, depression or anxiety, unhealthy skin (especially in and around the mouth), nervous tics, nerve damage, or excessive stress the B vitamin group should always come to mind as an important part of a remedy assisting the body in healing.
